LYON BUSINESS & ECONOMICS BUILDING

Lyon College is the oldest college in Arkansas with its original charter, with 2022 marking the 150th year that Lyon has been making an impact. A selective, independent teaching and learning community affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), Lyon College offers both a challenging undergraduate curriculum grounded in the liberal arts and select graduate programs.

Lyon provides excellent academics, an outstanding outdoor adventure program, study abroad opportunities, and much more. Approximately 600 students from over 32 states and 18 countries attend Lyon. They can tailor their education, selecting from 21 majors as well as pre-professional and even an individualized "design-your-own" major option.

In April 2022, Lyon College announced plans for proposed veterinary and dental schools located in Little Rock, Arkansas. The schools will be part of the new Lyon College Institute of Health Sciences, with a proposed opening date before 2025.

Lyon College also announced a collaboration with White River Health in Batesville to develop an RN to Bachelor of Science in Nursing program.

With 22 percent of students being the firsts in their families to attend college and nearly 35 percent coming from low-income families, Lyon College works tirelessly to make sure a student's finances are the least of their worries. Ninety-nine percent of students at Lyon receive scholarships and financial aid, and with the Lyon Pledge and Backyard Access Plan there are more options available than ever before.

And since Lyon College is the first college in Arkansas to boast a pet-friendly campus, students don't have to leave their furry, scaled or feathered friends at home. Lyon even has an on-campus pet park and an annual pet blessing event to make sure pets are just as involved as students.

The Association of Arkansas Counties states that agriculture is the county's main industry, with beef and poultry production as well as processing being two of its key sectors.

The poultry processing operations in Batesville are major employers not only for the town, but also across the entire state of Arkansas.

Ozark Mountain Poultry (OMP), owned by Georges Inc., is a family-owned company based in Springdale that employs more than 1,000 people from the Batesville area. George's Inc. purchased OMP in 2018 to produce antibiotic-free and non-GMO poultry products at a lower price point for consumers, and the Batesville complex has been producing over 5 million pounds of chicken every year since its' founding in 1984. Peco Foods is one of the largest poultry producers in America and is one of the top five poultry companies operating in Arkansas. Peco employs 1,211 workers at its two facilities in Independence County. Combined, these plants produce about 36.5 million pounds of chicken each week.

In October 2021, Custom Craft Poultry purchased Batesville Cold Storage. The purchase gave the company a foothold in retail and restaurant markets by supplying products that other larger plants do not provide. They use a blend of hand and machine processes to create these goods.
